Projects

Canal - A full-stack website that is similar to Amazon

Live Site | GitHub

Ruby on Rails, React, Redux, JavaScript, HTML5, CSS3, PostgreSQL, Webpack, AWS

- Implemented full CRUD on reviews as well as cart, with search functionality, and products being saved through AWS database.
- Utilized Redux for efficient state management in React components, resulting in cleaner, more scalable code and a seamless, responsive UI.

LovArt - A MERN stack social media app that allows users to post their art

Live Site | GitHub

Mongoose, Express, Redux, React, AWS S3, MongoDB, Node.js

- Built a robust and scalable server-side application with Express.js, utilizing its powerful routing and middleware capabilities to handle HTTP requests, construct RESTful APIs, and seamlessly integrate MongoDB for streamlined data storage.
- Collaborated with team members using Git workflow and Slack to efficiently implement features, transitioning between frontend and backend tasks.

Performance Playbook - A data vis website highlighting NFL fantasy football stats

Live Site | GitHub

JavaScript, HTML5, CSS3, Webpack, Figma, D3

- Used D3 API and webpack to fetch and visualize player statistics, enabling comparative data between current player and top player at that position.
- Developed a dynamic performance tracking system using vanilla JavaScript, updating player statistics such as points, yards, touchdowns.
- Empowered users to make informed decisions for their fantasy football teams by being able to filter by position, week, and stats.

Education

App Academy, New York, NY

March 2023 - June 2023

- During my time at App Academy, a prestigious 16-week full-stack engineering bootcamp with a 3% acceptance rate, I honed my skills in full-stack web development utilizing front-end technologies such as JavaScript, Express, and React, and back-end technologies like Ruby on Rails, PostgreSQL, and MongoDB.
- Integrated third-party APIs, employed front-end frameworks, and adhered to best practices, demonstrating my ability to design, develop, and deploy responsive and user-friendly web applications. Additionally, I thrived in agile team environments, delivering high-quality projects within tight deadlines.

Professional Experience
